Solicitor Dorsey is at present in Valhalla with his family, but The Journal communicated with him over long distance telephone and he refused either to affirm or to deny the report.

An unusual fact in connection with the new sensation is that Solicitor Dorsey, although he never figured as a witness, claims to have heard the shoe that he contended Mrs. Daisy Grace

According to the information placed in the hands of the defense, Solicitor Dorsey attended a meeting at the McClure wholesale house on the Saturday Mary Phagan was murdered. The meeting commenced at noon and lasted quite a while.

SAYS HE SAW FRANK
The Frank defense will contend, it is said, that the solicitor general then saw Leo M. Frank on the streets, probably about Hunter and Whitehall Sts., and some action on the part of the man who was later to go under the solicitor's fire, then aroused Mr. Dorsey's suspicions. The solicitor was so suspicious, it is alleged, that he later called Mr. McClure over the telephone to ask him if he, too, did not think Frank acted queerly. This, however, is denied by Mr. McClure.

The latter, who is the head of the McClure stores, was communicated with by a Journal reporter. Mr. McClure

Mr. McClure states that he is of the opinion that he and Mr. Dorsey left the store about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, but is not certain of the time.

Then, Mr. McClure states, he did not know Leo Frank, even by sight, and does not have any recollection of seeing him. He did see the Montague brothers

Mr. Dorsey, over long distance telephone, positively refused to discuss the case.

Although counsel for Frank, Luther Z. Rosser and Reuben R. Arnold, refuse to discuss the matter, it is generally considered probable that they will attempt to put the solicitor on oath and secure the admission that he saw Frank and that Frank, on the day of the tragedy, aroused his suspicions.

IN-KEEPING WITH CHARGE
This would be in keeping with the

The extraordinary motion for a new trial that Mr. Dorsey became convinced of the guilt of the defendant before many of the facts in the case became known, and that he discarded all testimony that did not fit in with his theory of the murder.

The defense is expected to charge that the solicitor's knowledge that Frank was on the street at that time

That Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey on April 28, 1915, saw Leo M. Frank, the man he has prosecuted, "on that day, on the street and at that time became suspicious of his actions, is information which has been placed in the hands of the attorneys for the defense.

Solicitor Dorsey is at present in Val-

An unusual fact in connection with the new sensation is that Solicitor that he contended Mrs. Grace

Mr. Dorsey has figured as solicitor.

Mr. Dorsey, who is vice president of

Close Enemy of Rebel Leader Gives Authority for Statement That Villa Wants to Rule Mexico

(By Associated Press.)
CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, March 14.—
The one time bandit, will be the most powerful of Mexico. That is his ambition and he will report to the contrary it will remain his ambition until he either is dead or president.
This declaration was made today by a friend so close to General Villa as to give authority to the assertion. It was prompted by reports that the commander, Mr. Dorney, over long distance telephone, positively refused to discuss the case.
It was asked if he would make an affidavit as to what he saw Frank do on the street if requested to do so by the defense, and to that he replied: "I cannot make an affidavit, but I get them out of the street."
Although counsel for Frank, J. C.
Roemer and Reuben R. Arnold, refused to discuss the matter, it is generally considered probable that they will at last be able to get Frank out of the street.

That Villa and Carranza might object, and that they might publicly embrace as an evidence of their perfect harmony

In the absence of any indication that General Villa intended to move southward, apparently, this was the largest rebel territory, apparently has resigned itself in an indefinite state of revolution.

Outwardly conditions are almost normal. The military band discourses operatic music in the plaza; a crowd promenades in the gay light; a wandering Tarahumara Indian garbed only in a blanket, a pair of boots and a silk

The hitting of Strunk was a feature, as he hit safely four times out of five. With three runs in the ninth inning and no one out, Strunk hit a home run and retired the next three Cub batters in order.

STALLINGS' BOYS, PEPPER KIDS OF NATIONAL LEAGUE

BY ELMER S. FULFORD.

MAISON, Ga., March 12.—Boston is the puppet team of the National League. The transformation of a hopeless joke into one of the liveliest and most dangerous clubs in the country is one of the modern miracles of baseball.

I saw the Braves in their second and third practice sessions of the year and attended school in the lecture room. In twenty years I never have seen so much life, determination and fighting spirit in any team.

There are thirty-seven of them on the grounds, almost everyone young, speedy and ambitious. It is the fastest crowd of youngsters I ever have watched.

This is almost certainly a first division ball club—and if Stallings has his way, it may be a serious pennant contender. George Stallings, twice canned out of the American league, is demonstrating the fact that he is one of the greatest of baseball generals. He is a great leader of men on and off the field—and this year he has a bunch of boys willing to follow where he leads. His problem now is to school them. To this end he paid a fortune for Johnny Evers—to help school and ready his youth in the field, and by so doing he has made the strongest second base-shortstop combination in the country—possibly, barring the Barry-Colts duo of the Athletics.

Now speed and brilliancy at second base and shortstop is two-thirds of the total defensive strength of any team, and the essential of all championship clubs. With Evers and Maranville working together, Stallings has speed, brilliancy and Evers' experience of twelve years to help the "Rabbit" develop.

Stallings' methods are interesting. I had the pleasure of going through a full day with his team. All players must be down by 8:30 and at breakfast. At 9:30 school starts.

Then the players dressed and walked or trotted a mile to the grounds and to lunch and at 1 o'clock at it again, harder than ever, hustling, trying, watching each other and learning.

You fellows ought to see the Rabbit and the Crab work together. They work as if made for each other. Maranville's style of passing the ball is exactly that of Tinker at his best—just the way that enables Evers to make the pivot throw most readily and with least danger of error.

The catching department is not strong. Gowdy and Bert Whaling will be the regulars. Gowdy is a big, heavy fellow who has improved greatly. Walter Koepke is promising. Dick Lewis, an ex-Harvard man, is fine material. But the best new prospect is Fred Tyler, who is a brother of George Tyler, the pitcher.

Stallings knows he must find pitchers and that finding good pitchers is like extracting radium from clay. He has Adolf Lague, the Cuban, and sixteen others.

Tyler, with competent catching, is a

Flick Reports At Chattanooga

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CHATTANOOGA, March 14.—With the close of the second week of practice today, every Lookout was in the fold. Second Baseman Carl Flick, the last man to report, having arrived last night. Flick, who it was feared, had jumped to the Federals, was delayed by the floods in California. Pitcher Rowland Howard has not reported but he has no doubt McCormick, that he will not be on the grounds until after graduation exercises at Lehigh, where he will receive a degree of law in May.

great left-hander. Of the new material, Crutcher greatly. He is in good enough condition to tell something of what he can do and he shows a lot. Bill James is the fellow Flick, Jones declared would be a marvel—and Stallings thinks the same. Rudolph is likely to develop into a marvel at any minute.

The infield probably will be Charlie Schmidt at first—a butcher who can hit .400 against a porthouse and almost as much against good pitching. Evers can play a lot of first base and he will be up there if Schmidt slips. Evers and Maranville will be at second and short. Charlie Deal, ex-Tiger, probably will be at third.

The outfield—Joe Connolly, Tom Griffith and Larry Gilbert—are one fast combination and there is hitting power behind the speed. Leslie Mann is

McCormick Seeks Hurlers

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 14.—Manager Moses McCormick left this morning for a gun shoe trip to the major league training camps. The local pilot is in search of pitchers. His first stop will be at Macon, where he will look over Stallings' squad. From Macon he will visit the Dodge camp at Augusta and then other points. Baby Street will assume control of the local training operations during McCormick's absence.

Pensacola Club To Free Players

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 14.—Holders of the local franchise in the Cotton States league declared today that they were ready to release all players immediately upon the disbanding of the league, which is expected to take place at Meridian next week. The disruption of the league is due, so the local ball men say, to the failure of Pensacola, Selma and Jackson to observe the salary limit. Toward the close of last season some of the clubs paid salaries equal to those paid in the Southern league.

U. S. Golfers Beat Britons

P. W. Whittemore and Mrs. William West Beat Johnston and Miss Ravenscroft at Pinehurst

PINEHURST, N. C., March 14.—The United States yesterday won the international mixed golf foursomes here, arranged in honor of Miss Gladys Ravenscroft, of England, and holder of the women's national championship in this country. The score was 4 to 2 with one match of the seven halved.

Miss Ravenscroft played with E. A. Johnston, of England, but was unable to win from Parker W. Whittemore, of Brookline, and Mrs. William West, of Camden, N. J., the match being halved. The only pair to win for Great Britain were Mrs. E. H. Barlow, who played with R. F. Robinson, of St. Catherine's, against Harry C. Fowkes, of Oakmont, and Mrs. J. V. Ward and R. H. Fortune, of St. Catherine's, who defeated G. T. Curtis, of Oakhill, and Miss Louise McKim, of Oakmont.

The track meet schedule of the southern California colleges, just announced, calls for nine dual meets. The season closes with the Pacific coast intercollegiate meet at San Francisco on Saturday, May 2.

YOUR MONEY
The Stock Exchange and Its Incorporation.
By JOHN M. OSKISON.
It's wasting the time of congress discuss the incorporation of the stock exchanges of the country. No one will support the theory of incorporation. They think that speculation can thus be stopped; they don't even admit that it is desirable to stop speculation.

The exchanges are merely market places. Buyers and sellers meet there; the members agree upon certain rules of procedure; stocks and bonds are admitted to the trading list after the

Any stock exchange which did not regulate its own affairs in pretty strict accordance with the law of fair dealing would soon cease to have any business to transact; I do not know of any legislative enactment which would do the work half as well as it is done by the governing committees of the

What would be of great service to investors (the customers of stock exchanges), would be a federal law which should require full and intelligible financial statements from corporations desiring to list their stocks or bonds upon any exchange.

In nearly all cases of this kind, the corporation's statements to the authorities of the exchange have been proved to be dishonest or wholly revealing. But the exchange has no power to punish corporations for lying about their stock; they can only threaten and that happens usu-

But let a federal statute be enacted which shall require honest financial statements, with adequate penalties for lying, and then the public will gain some real protection of its interests when it goes into the exchanges to buy and sell securities.

"HINDSIGHTS"

Like the red light on the auto, are only good to keep from being run over. "Hindsight" never showed the way TO any place. It takes the "foresight" to lead a man or a machine anywhere. And the more piercing and far reaching the "foresight" the further away can the TURN IN THE ROAD be seen.

And it's a long lane that has no turning; and Broad street has waited a long time for our Produce friends to clear out.

A mighty small lamp out to show what's bound to happen soon. Surrounded by high priced, congested retail stores, Broad street just simply can't help getting its share of that trade from now on.

Don't sleep at the switch, and let this situation get away from you. Buy while it's the cheapest lot on the street, the 24x70 we have been offering this week at a little over $1,200 per foot. The best posted men in town say it is the bargain of the season.
